

BUILDING CODE ASKED IN PLEA BEFORE COUNCIL

Commissioners to Study
Names Before Making
Final Decision

Although the entire membership of the city council is favorable to the enactment of a building code in Dixon, no action will be taken on a petition filed at the meeting last evening, until the commission is satisfied that such regulation is desired by home owners and prospective builders. Several weeks ago contractors and builders attended a council session and urged the re-enactment of a building code in Dixon as a safeguard to prospective home owners. At that time it was suggested that a petition be presented to the council indicating the desire for such a code.

Several contractors were present at the meeting of the council last evening when George Christianson, local contractor, presented the lengthy petition to the council. The city fathers voted to accept and file the petition after which Mayor Sitohower added his comment, stating:

"This petition will be carefully scrutinized by the members of this council. Each name appearing on these pages will be investigated and should the council determine that a sufficient number of signers appears thereon, the city attorney will be instructed to draft a building code."

Each member of the commission, according to the mayor's statement, favored the adoption of a building regulation measure, but, he added:

May Cost City $1,000
"The property owner and the prospective builder are most concerned and will be given first consideration, for, after all, this council represents all of the citizens of Dixon, and I personally consider them to be more vitally interested in the necessity for a building code than those engaged in the building trade."

"I do not wish to invite a referendum vote on this issue and I will not permit the city's money to be spent for the preliminary proceedings necessary in securing the passage of the code, unless I am satisfied that the citizens of Dixon want such regulation. I estimate that the preliminary cost alone would amount to about $1,000. This includes the drafting of the code and the amendments, the publication of the lengthy ordinance as required by law and then the printing of the code in book form."

"I have been informed that in the event that action for the adoption of a building code proceeds, this council will be petitioned for a referendum to which the citizens are entitled and that means additional expense to the city. I will not spend the city's money if I am satisfied that this code is not

Explosion, Fire at Centralia Oil Well; Eight Hurt

Centralia, Ill., March 30.—(AP)—Eight persons were burned, one fatally, in an explosion and fire at an oil well being completed just west of this city today.

John Smith of Hominy, Okla., died at noon, two hours after he and five other oil workers were enveloped in flames by the explosion of gas escaping from the well. Two of them are in critical condition. The other two victims were occupants of a house near the well which was destroyed by fire.

Smith was burned almost beyond recognition and clothing was burned from the bodies of the other oil workers.

Ambulances, taxis and private cars raced across this city to take victims to St. Mary's hospital here and nurses and physicians were called to give emergency treatment.

Besides Smith, the victims were:

D. E. "Red" Bevan, Tulsa, Okla., condition critical;

Charles Underwood, Drumright, Okla., condition critical;

Carl Lyette of Louisiana, town unknown;

Dave Hardin of Hominy;

Joe Butrick of Hominy;

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Stow, formerly of Kilgore, Tex.

Mrs. Stow and her husband were burned when gas from the well—being drilled in the back yard of their home—exploded, setting their house afire. Neither was seriously burned. The other victims were oil workers employed in the completion of the well.

Woman Gave Warning

Bevan, Lyette, Smith and Hardin were employees of Tom Ray of Hominy, drilling contractor on the well, and Underwood and Butrick were employed by

REHEARSED TECHNIQUE

Boston, March 30.—(AP)—For two months Arthur P. Andrews, 68, manager of a Park Square liquor store, has been rehearsing what he would do if a bandit ever held him up.

A holdupman entered the store last night, Andrews applied the rehearsed technique, and when police entered they found Andrews sitting on the man's chest pounding him on the head with the gunman's own revolver.

GOOD BARNSTORMING

Boston, March 30.—(AP)—Don't scoff at grandpa when he says it's going to rain because his leg hurts.

Dr. Lloyd Brown, orthopedist of the Harvard Medical School, told the eastern convention of health, physical education and recreation last night that persons who have chronic diseases are very likely to be affected—in arms or legs—by some other part of the body—by a change in the weather.

"They are excellent barometers."

REMEMBER WHEN?

Norristown, Pa., March 30.—(AP)—Two 18-year-old rookie firemen admitted in court they were so intrigued by their elders' accounts of big fires that they started one themselves so they, too, would have something to talk about.

They set fire to a large barn at Jenkintown, they told Judge George C. Corson, hoping they could help put it out and then on subsequent evenings join the tele-swapping circle at the fire house and say: "Remember when . . ."

The judge reserved sentence.

UNENCUMBERED BABE

Springfield, Ill., March 30.—(AP)—Jean Ann Walkenhorst was born unencumbered by hospital and doctor's obligations because of a seven-month thrift campaign conducted by her parents.

Papa Ray Walkenhorst who manages a lunch room dumped $20 dimes and 1,200 pennies on a tray and told the amazed cashier at St. John's hospital:

"We made it a rule never to spend a dime or a penny. We put away every one we got our hands on."

Bioff Applies for His Release Pending Review Of Pandering Charges

Springfield, Ill., March 30.—(AP)—William Bioff, west coast motion picture labor leader, applied to the Illinois Supreme Court today for release on bail pending a review of his conviction in 1922 on a charge of pandering.

Bioff's petition was filed by his attorney, State Senator A. L. Marovitz of Chicago, who asked the court to rule on the application for bail and a writ of super-seedeas when the April term begins Tuesday.

Bioff, who came from Hollywood to face the 18-year-old charge, now is free on bond supplied to a lower court.

He was convicted by a Chicago municipal court in 1922 of pandering and sentenced to six months in jail. He appealed to the first district appellate court, which upheld the conviction, but served only a few days of the six-month sentence.

Appointment of Russell to New York College Faculty "Chair of Indecency"

New York, March 30.—(AP)—A state supreme court justice today upheld the application of a Brooklyn housewife for an order to revoke the appointment of Bertrand Russell as a professor of mathematics at the City College of New York.

Justice John E. McGehee termed the appointment of the English philosopher "a chair of indecency."

Appointment of Russell, which was to have taken effect next February, raised an immediate storm of protest from church figures and others. Educators, on the other hand, came to his defense, terming the controversy a challenge to "academic freedom."

The court case was brought by Mrs. Jean Kay, whose high school daughter she said might some day attend the college.

Charges State Chairman Stiles With Defaming Character

Chicago, March 30.—(AP)—Dwight H. Green, who has been accused of accepting aid from the Democrats in his campaign for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, was staunchly defended today in a statement issued by a namesake, State Rep. LeRoy M. Green of Rockford.

The Winnebago county Republican, who has been a member of the legislature for 16 years, charged it was Richard J. Lyons, not Green, who was being helped by "pawns of the Cook county Kelly-Nash Democratic organization."

"It is indeed unfortunate," LeRoy Green's statement said today, "that there are Republicans of the stripe of our state chairman (A. K. Stiles of Sycamore) who will deliberately, in their lust for power, defame by falsification and misrepresentation an honorable man."

The legislator named five Republican ward committeemen supporting Lyons who, he charged, were "pawns" of the Democrats: State Senator Daniel A. Serritella and State Reps. William S. Plunkane, Peter C. Granata, Robert Petrone and Michael A. Ruddy.

"x x x To the knowledge of every member of the legislature," he stated, "these so-called Republicans have never voted with the Democrats, but have voted continuously with the Kelly-Nash Democrats."

"A check of the record quickly shows that today this same crowd which has voted to our knowledge under the orders of Kelly-Nash are each and every one of them supporting the candidacy of Richard J. Lyons because the Kelly-Nash machine believes they can defeat Lyons (in the gubernatorial contest this fall)."

LeRoy and Dwight Green are not related. The former was minority leader of the house in 1935.

Three-and-Half- Year Old Girl is Missing at Breeds

Breeds, Ill., March 30.—(AP)—Seventy-five searchers spread out in the fields today to continue the hunt for Helen Louise Chenoweth, a three and a half year old child who disappeared mysteriously Thursday night.

Lieut. Robert Grant of the Illinois state police, who is assisting Sheriff B. E. Cook of Fulton county in the search, said the case was one of the most baffling he had ever encountered.

He said "not a single worthwhile clue" had been found since the child disappeared from her family's doorstep shortly before the supper hour.

Theories that the little girl was kidnapped or abducted have been abandoned, Grant reported, and a 17-year-old cousin of the child, William Long, probably will be released from custody today. The

About to Become Uncle File in New Jersey Steel Workers' Upset

Chicago, March 30.—(AP)—"I've got to see her, I've just got to see her," Edward J. Collins kept pleading last night as he nervously paced the corridors of Chicago Lying-In hospital.

Unable to quiet the 22-year-old steel-worker, attendants called police. Edward was proud but a little sheepish today when the court dismissed a disorderly conduct charge.

"It's the first one, Judge," he confided. "I'm an uncle for the first time."

CLASH OF WORDS DIMS REPORT OF GUNFIRE ABROAD

Speech of Red Premier
Seen as Doom of Any Extension of Axis

International

(By The Associated Press)
Berlin—Germans hint further disclosures of alleged Polish documents proving American diplomats fostered allies' war with Germany.

Washington — Secretary Hull says state department gave German documents not "the slightest credence", declares they do not represent United States policy.

London—British dismiss Russian Molotov's attacks on allies, see his speech a blow to any German Rome-Berlin-Moscow axis hopes; German air attack on convoy reported repulsed.

Paris—French machine-guns ambush German infantry patrol.

Moscow—Supreme soviet recesses after approving Russian foreign policy.

Nanking—Wang Ching-Wei inaugurates Japanese-sponsored "central government of China."

(By The Associated Press)

A new barrage of words dimmed the sound of gunfire in warring Europe today as the Nazi press acclaimed the "sensational discovery" of alleged Polish documents which, it said, proved that American diplomats had helped to hasten the outbreak of hostilities last September.

The "discovery" drew a swift retort from Washington challenging the credibility of the papers which the German foreign office said had been uncovered in the secret archives of the Warsaw government.

In London, the war of words took a different turn as attention was focused on the Moscow speech in which Russian Premier Vyacheslav Molotov yesterday assailed Britain and France for "hostility toward the U. S. S. R."

Some British observers were inclined to discount Molotov's harsh words about the allies and to emphasize his declaration of Russian neutrality as ending any Nazi hope of a Rome-Berlin-Moscow axis.

Others interpreted the address, delivered before the supreme soviet, Russia's legislature, as foreshadowing a re-shaping of Russian foreign policy on the theory that Germany would win the war.

Red Policy Approved

In Moscow, the supreme soviet adjourned after approving without debate the foreign policy reported by Molotov. Awaiting the legislature's attention when it convenes tomorrow are the creation of a "Finnish-Karelian union republic" in the territory gained from Finland, ratification of the Finnish peace treaty and Russia's 1940 national budget.

On the western front, a flurry of activity was reported south of Saarbruecken, where the French said their machine-guns had cut down an infantry attack on their outposts. Artillery exchanges also were reported west of the Vosges mountains and the Saar river.

German sources said that Nazi air-raiders, working close to the English coast last night, had sunk one merchant ship in convoy and "scored a number of hits on a cruiser" but the British Admiralty said the attackers had been driven off without doing any damage. Loss of one German plane was acknowledged in Berlin.

The German high command also acknowledged the loss of a pursuit plane in fights over the western front but the British asserted the Germans lost two fighters and one of their bombers was disabled. The German version added that three French-type planes were forced down with serious damage.

Dixie Storm Toll is Placed at Six Killed

Pierre Part, La., March 30.—(AP)—Tornado storms, striking hardest in Louisiana and dipping into three other states, killed at least six persons, injured more than 50 others and caused considerable property destruction yesterday.

The most devastating blow was struck at this isolated fishing village of several hundred population. Four were known dead, about 30 were hurt and at least one, probably more, was missing here.

The dead at Pierre Part were Mrs. Theresa Breaux, 60; Agnier Cavaliere, 12; Lester Temple, 3, and Alma Temple, 1. Herman Aucoin, 6, missing, was given up as lost. Franklin D. Roosevelt Butler, Negro, 5, was killed at Bogalusa, La., and Mike Aaron, Negro, 45, near Amite, La.

Storms of varying intensity were felt in many south Louisiana towns and disturbances were reported also in Texas, Mississippi and Alabama.

Judges Releases All But $5,000 of Demo. Funds

Springfield, Ill., March 30.—(AP)—Circuit Judge L. E. Stone today modified an injunction impounding Democratic campaign funds, freeing all but $5,000 of an alleged $200,000. The court said the $5,000 would remain impounded to guarantee the payment of any claims that might be found justified.

The suit for an injunction and an accounting was brought by Sylvester Steskal, a state policeman, who alleged that upward of $200,000 had been placed on deposit with the American National Bank & Trust Company of Chicago to the account of the Illinoisans, Democratic campaign agency.

Steskal demanded in his suit the return of $168, which he said he had paid to the fund as a two per cent assessment on his salary.

Only $348 Involved

Six former state employees joined with Steskal in the action, accusing nine state officials of diverting campaign funds to their own use. The officials included Finance Director Samuel L. Nudelman and the late F. Lynden Smith, public works administrator.

In dissolving the injunction in large part, Judge Stone said:

"It has been now more than 30 days since this suit was filed. It had very wide publicity in that time and notwithstanding that publicity we have only the afore-said sum of money ($348 sought by all plaintiffs) to be accounted for to those who wish to have it accounted for."

The court also rejected a charge of contempt of court filed by attorneys for the state officials against Steskal, who alleged he had made conflicting statements in his complaint and in a hearing.

Trade Pact Foes Beaten by Close Count in Senate

Washington, March 30.—(AP)—The reciprocal trade program, a fundamental administration policy and potential campaign issue, survived a crucial senate test yesterday when a three-vote majority killed an amendment to require senate ratification of trade agreements.

Administration lieutenants, who considered the amendment a death warrant for the program, were jubilant over the 44 to 41 vote. Senator Harrison (D-Miss) floor manager for the legislation extending the program three years, told reporters:

"The fight is over now. I think we'll pass the bill Tuesday."

Foes of the trade policy made it clear, however, that they would keep on fighting for other restrictive amendments.

Yesterday's vote found Republicans solidly for the ratification amendment. They made it plain that they would carry their fight to the electorate, and Republican leaders felt they had gained political advantage in presenting an unbroken front on the issue.

The amendment—which sought to make trade agreements ineffective until approved by a two-thirds senate majority—was supported by the 21 Republicans present, 18 Democrats, one progressive and one Farmer-Laborite. Opposing were 43 Democrats and one independent.

Two Democrats who had been uncommitted until yesterday—Donahy of Ohio and Schwartz of Wyoming—voted against the ratification proposal.

FORMER COLLEGE INSTRUCTOR MAY FACE JAIL TERM

Dies Committee Considers Contempt Action
Against Blumberg

Washington, March 30.—(AP)—A one-time university professor who became a Communist party leader was threatened today with contempt proceedings because he refused to answer Dies committee questions or say whether he would defend the United States in event of war with Soviet Russia.

Albert E. Blumberg, former teacher of philosophy at Johns Hopkins and now secretary of the Communist party in Maryland and the District of Columbia, was the third of the party's leaders to balk at questions this week in the house investigation of un-American activities. The house has referred a contempt citation against one of the previous witnesses to prosecuting officials, and the committee has taken steps to obtain similar action against the other.

Chairman Dies (D-Tex) said he would suggest that the committee ask the house to report Blumberg's conduct to the United States attorney here for presentation to a grand jury.

Faces Fine, Jail

The penalty for contempt of the committee is a fine of not more than $1,000 and a jail sentence of not over one year.

Blumberg and his attractive young wife testified yesterday. The couple, who live in Baltimore, were subpoenaed after committee investigators seized a quantity of records at the party's Baltimore office.

Blumberg, poised, black-haired and soft-spoken, testified freely about his own activities in the Communist party, but declined to

Fears Permanent Roosevelt Regime If He's Re-Elected

Milwaukee, March 30.—(AP)—Frank E. Gannett, Republican candidate for president, expects Franklin D. Roosevelt to seek a third term and believes that if the United States "has four more years of Roosevelt, we may never be able to displace him."

The Rochester (N. Y.) publisher told the Cornell Alumni club of Milwaukee last night that "the government you and I know won't be the same if we don't stop him."

"He (Roosevelt) has the right of way on the radio," Gannett said, "he gets preference in the movies. There are 1,000,000 on the Federal payroll, and that means 5,000,000 votes. There are 20,000,000 on relief, and that means 100,000,000 votes. It is a powerful machine."

"We are in the most critical period of our history. What happens in the next few months may determine the future of America. Roosevelt will be hard to beat. He has all the advantages. But he can and must and will be beaten."

The United States should be leading the world in recovery and prosperity, Gannett declared, but instead has been going in reverse for the past decade.

Story of Robbery of Dixon Store Unfounded

Ben Crouter, 16-year-old Dixon state hospital patient, escaped from the institution late yesterday afternoon and was captured at Oregon with a bicycle in his possession. Deputy Sheriff William Hungerford telephoned local police and reported that Crouter had related a tale of having been with a group of patients who had robbed a Dixon store, taking four new bicycles and three 45 caliber automatic revolvers.

Investigation developed that no robbery had been committed locally, but through the serial numbers on the bicycle and registered at the police headquarters, it developed that Crouter had stolen the bicycle, which was the property of Hugh Campbell, 115 East Bradshaw street, from Lowell park. The bicycle was returned to the owner and Crouter was returned to the state hospital.

Wife of Murderer Unmoved as Jurors Find Verdict

Lake Charles, La., March 30.—(AP)—Mrs. Annie Beatrice Henry, pretty 24-year-old wife of a murderer, is under conviction for the slaying of a man who knelt naked and begged in vain for his life and a chance to see his daughter graduate from college.

The "tigress" calmly received a jury's murder verdict, making hanging mandatory, last night that she fatally shot Joseph P. Calloway, 42, a Texas salesman who befriended her before the St. Valentine's Day slaying.

Prosecuting attorneys described Mrs. Henry, wife of Claude (Cowboy) Henry, serving 50 years in Texas for killing a policeman, as a "tigress."

The state contended she, who is to be tried later, hitch-hiked a ride with Calloway to get his automobile for a projected Arkansas bank robbery.

Witnesses said she admitted forcing Calloway out of the car, forcing him to disrobe in a rice field near here, and shooting him. Mrs. Henry, dressed in black, repudiated the purported confession at the trial, testifying Burks fired the fatal shot.

IN READERS' DIGEST

The April issue of the Readers' Digest contains an article on the subject, "New Strength For the Staff of Life." It says: "At Morris, Ill., is an old brewery that has been converted into a flour mill. By accident the millers ground wheat into flour leaving the wheat germ undisturbed and for some reason the flour did not turn rancid. This proved a new and important discovery in the milling industry, due to the fact that the wheat germ contains vitamins B and G, which in the past has been removed from flour." The progressive Beier brothers of this city are now making bread from this new flour.

Citing the Bible story of Jesus' conversion of water into wine, this source observed:

Thomas E. Dewey Visits Wisconsin on Speaking Tour

Milwaukee, March 30.—(AP)—Thomas E. Dewey circled through Wisconsin today in a speaking tour timed to coincide with conclusion of campaigning for the badger state's presidential preference primary election Tuesday.

The New York district attorney, who is opposed by Senator Vandenberg of Michigan in the Republican column in this first ballot contest in the nation for convention delegates, wound up his first day's visit in Wisconsin with an address here last night broadcast over a state network.

Praising the state as a leader in social progress, Dewey told the Badger voters that "the country rightfully looks to you for continued leadership in its fight to win its way out of this new deal depression."

He declared that the new deal has "a vested interest in continued depression" and does not want recovery.

Re-Potting Plants

A plant is easily removed from the pot by placing the fingers of the right hand about the plant and turning the pot upside down. If the pot is jarred lightly against a stool or table the ball of soil and roots will free itself from the pot and rest in the palm of the hand. This is so simple anyone can do it.

Before re-potting, cut off the badly tangled winding of roots if they have formed at the bottom of the ball. Carefully disentangle the matted network of roots toward the top and replant in new soil. Plants should not be allowed to become root-bound. Care should be used in shifting plants from small pots until roots have threaded their way through the ball of earth and are somewhat matted around the bottom.

Most Ivy Requires Little Light

Contrary to popular belief, most ivy does not require an abundance of light, and oftentimes too much light is injurious. Notice healthy plants in other homes. You will see some lovely foliage in comparatively shaded areas. True, some light is necessary, but don't overdo it.

Birdhouses

With the advent of spring new members of the bird family will be arriving to take up their house-keeping. If you are planning new bird houses for your yard and garden, be cautious about painting them. Many birds refuse to enter a newly painted bird house because of the paint odor. Never paint the inside, and if possible do not paint them on the outside.

until next fall. Then, place the birdhouse outdoors so the weather will destroy all paint odors.

There is no limit to the sizes, shapes and material of bird houses. The doorway is important because small birds will not inhabit one where the opening will allow larger birds to enter.

Place your birdhouse well away from animals and pets, if you want them inhabited. On trees you may hang them on wires so they are not accessible to cats, etc. Some birds like their homes out in the open on high poles. Much enjoyment may be had if you place birdhouses near your favorite window. Their habits and industriousness are interesting.

Trim Trees Now

Just before the leaves begin to appear is an ideal time to trim your trees. Dead limbs and twigs may be trimmed or clipped to give the tree symmetrical beauty. Trimming now also adds strength to the tree as the unnecessary growth is eliminated.

DECORATING HINTS FOR YOUR HOME

Unusual Color Scheme

Living rooms combine red and putty color with effectiveness in its color scheme. Walls, ceilings and woodwork may all be painted putty color and the floor covered with a deep red carpet. Chintz curtains bear an early American design of red on an ecru ground to complete the picture.

Rejuvenated Kitchen

To make a kitchen new with color, combine green and yellow, and add a dash of blue for spice. Cover the cabinets, wood trim and baseboard with apple-green. Paint the walls a deep cream. Cover the floor with dark green linoleum and add sprigged curtains, with a yellow background, to cover glass curtains of a soft but striking shade of blue. Quite a combination, but one of those you marvel at when done in store windows or your favorite shop.

Well Dressed House Will Wear More Color

What the well-dressed home wear introduces more and more color in the home this season. Bright draperies, upholstery and vivid rugs lead the way in establishing American home lovers as being truly color-conscious. Paint takes on new hues and pastels that are novel and dramatizing. Kitchen gadgets are bright and shiny and bathroom fixtures in color are becoming more popular. This season you can't overlook color. . . it is so prominent. Even the outside of the home is going for gay reds, blues and greens. Roofs take on new sparkle, shutters flash a brilliant welcome and even the cement walks are being laid in gay, permanent colors. Many persons believe the increase in color reflects the optimism so often preceding increased home ownership and modernization.

Are Building Lot Prices Rising?

Any answer that will definitely say "Yes" or "No" is almost impossible to formulate. In some neighborhoods scarcity of building lots has caused increased prices. In others where the demand is not so great, prices for land have remained much the same. In striking an average it is generally conceded that land has not increased in price as yet and probably will not for another year.

If you are planning to buy a lot it is practical to assume that prices are not going to be lower, and, in most cases will eventually be higher. There is no point in waiting.

MODERN KITCHEN PRIDE AND JOY TO HOUSEWIFE

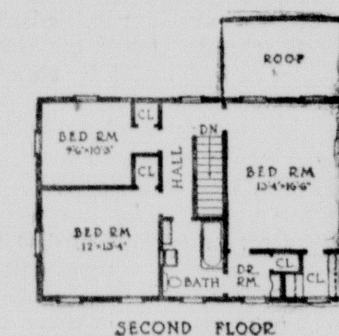

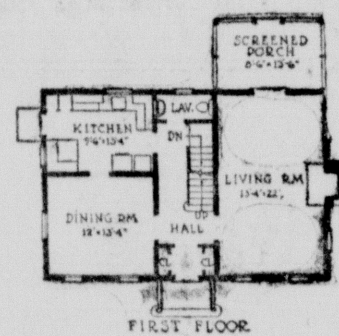

How does your kitchen rate on personality? Is it one you can be proud to show your friends? Is it convenient, well lighted and pleasing to the eye? Does it contain the latest time and money-savers today's modern kitchens possess? Lowest terms in history with reduced finance charges make kitchen modernization within reach of all. Weather is no handicap when doing interior modernization.

DIGNIFIED COLONIAL AT ITS BEST

It is difficult to find a new way of designing the most conventional and oft-repeated style of American home . . . the center-hall Colonial. The plan is used over and over again because it is so good, but many people hesitate to build this type of house because the style is pretty common. Through the addition of a small, classical pediment showing a gable end to the street, the designer in this instance has so refined the old style that the exterior no longer seems commonplace. This inexpensive addition retains the low cost and good room arrangement of the most common American style without the standard New England appearance. This design represents a good deal of house for your money. More information may be secured from your lumber dealer, or by writing The National Manufacturers Assn., 1337 Connecticut Ave., Washington, D. C.

Today's Home Best Example of Real Value

During the past few years many new and improved products, plus methods of better construction, have added to the value of today's home. A few years ago homes followed a definite room arrangement, particularly in the cottage or bungalow. Today, each home is different and unusual, yet practical and economical to own. Better methods of heating, insulation, bathroom improvement, well lighted rooms, recreation facilities and basic construction changes are just a part of increased value and livability today's home offers. You get more home for your money, with lower upkeep, than ever before in the history of home ownership.

When laying cedar shingles use only two hot dipped zinc coated nails to hold each shingle, regardless of width. Place the nails about three-quarters of an inch in from the edge and not more than two inches above the butt line of the course next above.

How to Figure Cost of Home You Can Afford

The purchase price or building cost of a home should not total more than two to two-and-one-half times the annual family income. The monthly payments should not be more than one-fourth or one-fifth of the annual income, including interest on the loan, installment to pay off the debt, and provision for annual taxes and property insurance.

This allows for comfortable enjoyment of home ownership without the worry of excess expenditures that pinch daily living facilities.

A recent innovation in home and garden tools are sets that are chromium plated and require little care to keep them bright and shiny. The most popular seems to be the small hand set of three for flower bed gardening.

For extra comfort, the modern household has extra pieces of bedroom furniture.

The "extras" add greatly to the convenience of any bedroom. And when they are available in the same design as the basic pieces of furniture, they are especially attractive.

Miss Sullivan and George Revell in Morning Nuptials

Miss Anna Louise Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Sullivan of Rochelle, was exchanging marriage vows with George William Revell, son of the John Revells of Byron at 8 o'clock this morning in St. Mary's church at Rockford. The Rev. Father C. C. McGrath performed the ceremony. The bride's white brocade wedding gown was designed princess style, and her fingertip veil was edged in lace. Attached to her white prayer book was an orchid, and streamers tied with plumes and valley lilies.

Two of the bride's cousins, Miss Frances Kennedy of Amboy and George Mihm of Steward attended the couple. Miss Kennedy wore pink net over taffeta, and a blue headdress.

The bride's mother was attired in black, and Mrs. Revell chose a blue ensemble. Spring flowers formed their shoulder bouquets.

After a wedding breakfast in the Colonial room at the Hotel Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Revell left on an eastern wedding trip. The bride selected a black and white tweed traveling costume, with red accessories.

After next week end, the couple will be at home at 1404 East State street, Rockford.

This morning's bride, a graduate of St. Anthony's hospital school of nursing, is a registered nurse. Mr. Revell, a Byron high school graduate, is employed by the National Lock company in Rockford.

Buchanan-Avery Rites Are Read

Miss Lois Avery and Clement Buchanan, former schoolmates in Paw Paw high school, exchanged marriage vows Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Avery. The Rev. James H. Hagerty read the impressive double ring ceremony at 7:30 o'clock.

Bouquets of tulips, jonquils and daffodils decorated the rooms for the ceremony.

The bride was wearing powder blue sheer, with a corsage of gardenias.

An informal reception followed the ceremony. Spring colors were chosen for the decorative motif at the refreshments table, and were repeated on the bride's cake. The wedding occurred on the birthday anniversary of the bridegroom, and his birthday cake was iced in yellow and white.

After their return from a wedding trip through the south, Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan will be at home near Compton, on Route 51.

The bride formerly attended Bradley college in Peoria, where she majored in home economics. The bridegroom, who is a son of the L. S. Buchanans of Compton, is engaged in farming.

Those attending the wedding were Mrs. Clement Johnson of Compton, Dr. W. M. Avery of Mendota, Mr. and Mrs. Milford Vance, Mrs. Hallock of Rockford, Miss Malinda Kaiser, and the immediate families of the bride and groom.

ALUMNAE NURSES TO HAVE SUPPER

Mrs. Frank McClanahan, 401 Galena avenue, has invited members of the Nurses Alumnae association to her home for a scramble supper at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening. Miss Lucille Stauffer is to be her co-hostess.

The group's monthly business meeting will follow the supper.

DIXON CIRCLE

Dixon circle, No. 73, Ladies of the G. A. R., will meet in G. A. R. hall at 7:30 p. m. Monday.

SOME DAY

Some one must provide a final resting place for you and your family. You must do it yourself or someone must do it for you. That is one decision every man and woman must make.

OWNERSHIP

Nolf and Jensen Are Represented in Iowa Exhibit

Two artists from the Grand Detour colony—John T. Nolf and Holger Jensen—are represented in an exhibit of outstanding interest being planned for the month of April at the Davenport, Iowa, Municipal Art Gallery. "Art and Artists Along the Mississippi" is the theme for the show, which is expected to start a movement for the development of typical American art in the mid-west.

Between 70 and 80 artists, of both regional and national distinction from cities along the river or in the wide valley of the Mississippi—stretching from Minneapolis to New Orleans—have been invited to become exhibitors in the show.

Mr. Nolf is showing a large canvas, "The Refugee," which he completed during the past winter in Oak Park. Mr. Jensen's print, "Along the Rock River," also completed recently, is of a picturesque spot on the river, within two blocks of his Grand Detour studio. Mr. and Mrs. Jensen were in Davenport on Monday.

Art enthusiasts in Iowa and Illinois and adjoining states are invited to attend the show during the gallery hours from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. on Sunday. In addition, the gallery will be open on Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 7:15 o'clock during April. Special school groups from communities and towns in this section will be accommodated for gallery tours through advance arrangement with gallery officials.

Although the exhibition will include subjects by contemporary artists, several pioneer artists will also be represented. Beginning with a Currier and Ives lithograph, "Wooding Up on the Mississippi," and a painting by the pioneer artist, Caleb Bingham, "Fishing on the Mississippi," the show will be carried forward in time and theme to the present day.

Included among the artists represented are Jon Corbino, John Steuart Curry, Charles Millett, Doris Lee and Marie Atkinson Hull. Incorporated into the general theme of the river will be scenes of steamboat days, flood scenes, genre themes (such as horse auctions, slum weddings, etc.) canvases depicting the people and life of the southern section of the river, the mines of the north, agricultural and industrial scenes, as well as purely scenic landscapes.

About 70 per cent of the land of American Samoa is forest.

WILL OBSERVE FIFTIETH YEAR

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bennett, who reside on the Davis farm in the Light House community, will celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary with a scramble dinner at the Light House Methodist church on Wednesday, April 3. The Bennetts were married at the parsonage of the Dixon Methodist church on April 3, 1890. Mrs. Bennett is the former Miss May Gates.

GRETCHEN KAHLER BECOMES BRIDE

Mrs. Ervin Peter Kahler of Kansas City, Mo., formerly of this city, announces the marriage of her eldest daughter, Gretchen, to Jerome Roth Churchman. The nuptials were solemnized Saturday, March 23, in Mission, Kan. The couple is at home at 303 Brush Creek boulevard, Kansas City.

Mrs. Krahler, who is the former Wilhelmine Seyfarth of Dixon, and her daughter are in charge of DeMolay dancing classes throughout the United States. The bridegroom is associated with the R. H. Jones Realty company in Kansas City.

Mrs. Ruth Mack of 203 East Fellows street is a sister of the bride's mother.

O. E. S. CLUB

Members of the O. E. S. Parlor club are planning a 2 o'clock dessert-luncheon for Monday in the Masonic temple. Bridge games will follow the sweet course.

The afternoon's hostess committee includes Mrs. David Boos, Mrs. Grover Hoberg, Mrs. R. H. Espy, Mrs. Harold Espy, and Miss Pauline Hoberg.

PALMYRA CLUB

Members of the Palmyra Community club will meet at the Sugar Grove church at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening. A representative of the Farm Bureau will show moving pictures, "Twenty Years' Progress in Farm Bureau." A special invitation is extended to newcomers to the vicinity.

MONDAY NIGHTERS

Miss Evelyn Graf of Grand Detour will be hostess at a 6:30 o'clock scramble supper Monday evening for Monday Nighters.

Cinnamon toast is a favorite accompaniment to hot, fragrant tea. Trim the bread slices, cut in strips, spread all over with butter, roll in blended cinnamon and sugar and bake in a hot oven until lightly browned. For an unusual flavor, add grated orange peel to the cinnamon and sugar.

Wilma Doran and Vincent Eagan Wed at Ohio Church

Nuptial high mass was solemnized at 7:30 a. m. Monday at Immaculate Conception church in Ohio for Miss Wilma Doran, daughter of the Frank Dorans, became the bride of Vincent Eagan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Egan of Deer Grove.

Miss Florence Egan, the bridegroom's sister, sang Bailey's "Ave Maria" at offertory. Miss Egan and Dale Doran sang two duets, "Veni Creator" and "Oh, Lord I Am Not Worthy."

Miss Margaret Doran was her sister's only attendant. Roland Devine of Sterling served as best man for his cousin.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of white satin, designed with a fitted bodice and full skirt. Her three-quarter length veil was of white tulle, and she carried calla lilies.

Her sister was wearing blue net with a toque of pink flowers.

A wedding breakfast and reception for the immediate families was held following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. Afterward, the couple left on a wedding trip.

EXCELLENT RATING

Jean Wickwire of Byron was awarded an excellent rating in Class A of the B flat clarinet division of the Northwest district grade school solo and ensemble contest yesterday morning at Sterling. Betty Young, also of Byron, was granted a superior rating for her performance in Class A of the flute contest.

ROYAL CARDINALS

Royal Cardinals have changed their meeting place for Monday evening from the Knights of Columbus Home to the Town Hall at Nelson.

BALDWIN AUXILIARY

Baldwin Auxiliary, No. 23, United Spanish War Veterans, will meet at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening in G. A. R. hall.

OREGON WOMAN IS JUDGE AT FLOWER SHOW IN CHICAGO

Mrs. William de Lhorbe of Oregon was one of a corps of judges working through the morning and into the afternoon today, selecting the best exhibits in the Chicago Flower Show. As a result of the judges' efforts, most of the ribbons were in place when the doors of the Navy Pier exhibition were opened at 2 p. m.

The Oregon woman was selected to judge the flower arrangement class.

A large gallery of arrangements is promised on the show program, including still-life pictures, arrangements for occasional tables, entrance halls, flowering branches, urns, interior and exterior, shell and epergne arrangements, twin arrangements suitable for buffet or mantle, arrangements of geraniums, breakfast trays and beverage trays, and line arrangements using foliage only.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and edified, while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farewell Address.

Count Us Out, Thank You

A loud voice telling us to mind our own business, bellowed forth across the Atlantic a few days ago—the voice of Oliver Stanley, Britain's secretary of state for war.

Mr. Stanley apparently resented American armchair strategy, denied that there was anything "phony" about the war, declared that the belligerents will run it the way they see fit. Britain is not amused by our attitude toward her war.

But at the same time Mr. Stanley demanded that Britain and France be left to handle the war in their own way because it was their war, he blandly announced that neutrals can't stay out of it—that it is their war as much as it's Britain's. "There are millions of individuals all over the world whose one thought is how to keep out of war; but despite their efforts, they are in it . . ." the war secretary said.

Yes, Mr. Stanley, we're in it—insofar as we have been dragged in against our will. We don't think it's our war, as you would have us believe, because we didn't have anything to do with starting it. We didn't want it to start. Imbued with ideals of American democracy, we felt all along that the war need never have begun.

Oh, it's not all your fault. You will say that no part of it is your fault, but some people feel differently about that over here. They feel that the motives for war carry back somewhat farther than the eye can see, and that perhaps, in the tide of events that led up to actual conflict, you weren't altogether blameless.

But that isn't important to us now. The things that concern us are our rights as a neutral nation. As long as we're not violating international law, we don't like to have our mails censored. We don't relish having our merchantmen stopped and searched when they are on entirely innocent missions.

It's no good trying to frighten or threaten us over to your side. We're not biting. We're staying out of this war. Did you get that?—WE'RE STAYING OUT.

We don't like Hitlerism. But neither do we like war. If you people in Europe must go to war in Europe, count us out. We do much better on this side of the Atlantic. There are 21 republics on two continents, living together as peaceful neighbors. We like it that way. We don't want to change it.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, March 29—Government agents have discovered that a semi-private banker from Berlin—one who handled speculative matters for the reichsbank—has moved into a fancy New York hotel. Extensive nature of his quarters has suggested he contemplates an extensive business, the character of which is not yet apparent.

Agents have tried to trace down a rumor that the official German speculator would meet with the illusive Hitler economic wizard, Dr. Schacht, for whom the British at Gibraltar searched the Conte di Savoia in vain. Best available information indicates the Berliner is handling cable transfers of funds to Germany through neutrals, particularly Switzerland and Holland.

The state department shook slightly at a report that he intended buying American planes for Hitler, shipping them across the Pacific to Vladivostok. He could cause considerable diplomatic embarrassment if he tried it but he couldn't get any planes. American manufacturers have their excuse ready—too busy now.

Agriculture Secretary Wallace did not blink when he endorsed the Farmer Union's enlarged subsidy for land bank borrowers, although his chief, Roosevelt, has twice vetoed bills to the same effect. (Congress adopting one over his veto.)

In 1935 congress first passed the Wheeler bill reducing Land Bank interest rates to 3½ and 4 per cent, which the president in his veto message said would cost the treasury $38,000,000 a year. Subsequent experience has shown the actual cost to be $50,000,000 annually. Now Wallace wants the rate lowered to 3 per cent, claiming the cost will be only $365,000,000 from the treasury over a seven-year period.

The administration farm spokesman did not disclose any emergency necessity in the farm belt to justify the change at this particular time. Only emergency reported here is the political one resulting from Messrs. Vandenberg's, Dewey's and Taft's campaigning on the hustings. At least the farm boss' conversion has come on the heels, if not as a direct result, of Democratic political apprehension. Whether the same heels have turned Roosevelt around, Wallace did not indicate.

But the agriculture secretary's determination to provide the softest possible money lending policy was earlier suggested by the firing or resignation in protest of his farm credit administration's governor, general counsel, and land bank commissioner, when he took control of that organization.

He denies these manifestations portend a change to soft money. He has announced there will be no further foreclosures, but his agents claim this policy was really instituted quietly last September. He even denies his absorption of FCA means what it seems, pointing out Roy Green, his new land bank commission appointee, is not a soft money man.

In fact he denies he wanted to take control of the lending agency. His official version is that Dr. W. L. Myers, former FCA governor and now head of the department of agricultural economics at Cornell University, started it all by getting the president to issue an order that the FCA would remain on an independent basis and merely report to Wallace instead of to the secretary of the treasury. The comptroller general ruled, however, that Wallace had to take the responsibility, so he also took the control.

The only thing clear through this cumulous haze of denials is that the easier money bill is going to get through congress and that Wallace has approved it, including its provisions permitting farmers to re-buy their land at depreciated value within five years after defaults.

Minor evidences continue accumulating that Roosevelt intends to renounce a third term, but not necessarily in his ten-minute talk to Young Democrats April 20. The reports can be traced to outside surmises based solely on the political nature of the occasion. Most politicians doubt that the president will speak out until he has gained complete control of the convention after it assembles, so that he will have no trouble designating the nominee.

War department will quietly arrange for a demonstration of the Barlow liquid oxygen bomb which amazed newsmen at a private demonstration this week. An army observer was present at the publicity demonstration. He has refused to talk even to his associates, but his superiors understand he considered it only slightly more powerful than TNT. Nevertheless war officers would like a more complete test to ascertain its sensitiveness, its ability to withstand impact, and whether it will last thirty hours without recharging, as the inventors claim.

Unseen sights of the Capitol: On the fourth floor of the agriculture department office building a black-lettered sign on one office door reads: "Animal Room".

In the interior department an office door is labeled: "The Alaska Reindeer Acquisition Unit."

MRS. NETTIE BANCROFT (Telegraph Special Service)

Polo, March 30—Funeral services for Mrs. Nettie Bancroft, 73, who passed away early Friday morning at her home on West Colden street, will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home. The Rev. Theodore Leopert, pastor of the Methodist church, will officiate and burial will be in Fairmount cemetery.

Mrs. Bancroft was the former Miss Nettie Atkins and was born in Ogle county in 1867. In 1889 she was married to George Bancroft, Polo jeweler, who preceded her in death several years ago.

Surviving is one daughter, Miss Ruth and one brother, Willard Atkins, of Polo.

Church Societies

Missionary Society—Mrs. A. F. Moore, 915 Brinton avenue, will be hostess to the Presbyterian Missionary society at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening.

Aid Society—The St. James Aid society has planned an all-day meeting for Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Norman Miller on rural route 3. Flower seeds and bulbs will be exchanged, and an auction of articles brought by the members will be held. Material for the background of the quilt blocks will be furnished, and those attending are asked to be prepared to sew.

C. C. Circle—Pink and green tapers and sweetpeas decorated the table at the twenty-eighth annual luncheon of the C. C. Circle of the Christian church yesterday. Covers were arranged for 15 members.

Officers were elected during the business meeting, including: President, Mrs. H. W. Stauffer; vice president, Mrs. Clark Rickard; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Frank Gates.

Mrs. Ruth Perkins gave a review of the book, "The Trees," by Conrad Richter.

Missionary Society—Mrs. J. B. Lennon was hostess to the Presbyterian Missionary society Friday afternoon. Mrs. George Dixon was in charge of the business meeting, which was followed by routine reports.

Mrs. O. L. Baird, the program leader, conducted the devotional period. Mrs. Davis gave a talk on the subject, "The Foreigner in America" and Mrs. Parsons presented the foreign Missionary subject, "Japan".

Refreshments were served during the social hour.

SUPPOSE

You were forced to buy a house in a strange city on an hour's notice. Do you think you could buy wisely? Surely you would always regret the hasty, costly selection.

Yet many families are compelled to buy burial property (the final dwelling place) with as little knowledge or notice.

CHAPEL HILL

Has counselled with hundreds of families in this community regarding such a provision. These families have expressed their appreciation for this counsel in many ways.

SERIAL STORY

K. O. CAVALIER

BY JERRY BRONDFIELD

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: When Steve explained that an important contract depends upon the safe arrival of a shipment of mining machinery at Prince Rupert, Val refused to be mated, signs as purser. Three sailors jump ship a few hours before sailing. To wait for new men will mean a costly delay. Val suggests they shanghai three more.

CHAPTER III

THERE was a broad smile on Steve Hansen's face. "We'll make it right after dark . . . an' shove off as soon as we get back. You can nose around a bit by yourself now, while I make a few arrangements." He patted her arm and went to look for Barney MacGregor.

"Barney," he began when he found the big Scotsman. "Barney, we're going to have a little fun tonight. We're going to do a little shanghaiing to replace those three skunks that jumped ship."

The effect on Barney MacGregor was just what Steve Hansen expected. "Take it easy, Barney. It's just a little gag to please th' gal."

"Keep talkin', Steve Hansen, but I'm going to need a lot of convincin'."

Hansen laughed. "Barney, here's where you come in. You take 30 bucks and scout around a few of the waterfront hangouts. Pick up three guys you think might make pretty fair hands. Give 'em 10 bucks each and explain to 'em what we want 'em to do. Tell 'em what's coming off and have 'em walk along casually behind that abandoned freight warehouse at Pier 7. Tell 'em to put up some sort o' struggle to make it look good. Now . . . d'you get it?"

Barney MacGregor regarded his skipper dubiously. "Steve Hansen, it's just a mite bit clearer than bilge water but if that's th' way you want it, okay with me."

VAL DOUGLAS, seated at mess

a short while later, felt a tingle that started at her toes and seemed to run to the base of her neck. This, she told herself, was more fun than she'd ever had in her life. She glanced across the table at Barney MacGregor and he gave her a broad wink. "We're not letting everyone in on this just yet," Hansen whispered to her. "We don't want to take any more chances than we have to. Barney has six of our best men lined up for the job. Figures two to a man ought to be plenty."

He nodded toward a red-headed seaman at the far end of the table. "Mike Kelly, there, used to be a pretty fair heavyweight fighter about six years ago. He says he don't need no help . . . says he can go out and bring 'em in himself."

Then lowering his voice still further: "You didn't want to go along with the boys by any chance, did you?"

She almost choked on a mouthful of string beans in her haste to reply. "Try and leave me be-hind!" she flared. "Whose idea was this, anyway?"

"It's liable to be a little dangerous," he said, leading her on. "An' if anything goes wrong you can't afford to be in on th' mess. Which reminds me, if your Uncle Hank gets wind o' this we'll be all findin' ourselves lookin' for jobs."

"Uncle Hank is 3000 miles away and he won't be back for a week."

Illustrated by Art Krenz

"Talk about luck," Barney whispered, "Look!" Three men were coming toward them. They crouched behind the wall, waiting.

And besides, he need never know. As for me, don't worry about my getting involved in a mess. I know people who can square anything but murder."

"I've seen shanghai parties that have ended in just that." The cold, casual way he said it made Val Douglas shiver just a little.

BARNEY MACGREGOR, leading his little party single file along the deserted dock, held up his hand. "We take it easy from here on," he whispered. "Another 300 feet and we'll begin to see some signs of life."

Big Mike Kelly took Val's hand in his. "Stick close to me, kid," he whispered hoarsely. "An' hang onto those ropes. We might have to send these guys back one at a time."

Val nodded. The seaman in front of her had a blackjack sticking out of his hip pocket. The sight of the ugly-looking instrument gave her a momentary feeling of regret about the whole idea. She hoped no one would be hurt.

It was back as pitch. There was no moon and only a few stars shone overhead. Barney MacGregor held up his hand again. "Talk about luck," he whispered excitedly. "Look!"

Walking toward them, a couple hundred feet away, were three men. "Split up, quick!" Barney ordered. "Behind these two sheds."

Val felt her heart racing. All three at one fell swoop! A minute or so later the three men were upon them. Val, flattened out against a wall, held her breath. Barney gave a signal and the six of them catapulted on their three victims.

Val, her eyes wide with excitement, had never seen the likes of this struggle. The three victims fought back savagely, so savagely they made hardly a sound.

One of them caught Barney MacGregor with a right that drove him back six feet. The man dropped another with a terrific left to the chin. He was a wild man, but they closed in on him

FANFARE

By DON DANIELSON.

A Dixon fight fan who listened to the strange event at Madison Square Garden last night where Joe Louis waved his right and a Paychek folded, reported this morning that he is burning incense around the loud speaker of his radio to destroy a bad odor. If you want to reaffirm your faith in the fight game you better tie yourself over to the Dixon high school gymnasium the night of April 16 where you'll see the real McCoy in a card of eight bouts staged for the benefit of Catholic Charities. The event will feature outstanding CVO boxers of Chicago matched with Golden Glove leatherpushers of the Rockford area.

SOFTBALL MEETING NEXT WEEK

Sparky Campbell will sponsor the twelfth team to comprise the softball league this summer. A meeting of all team managers has been called by O. E. Rowley and will be held Wednesday night at 8 o'clock at The Telegraph offices.

1940 BRIDGE OLYMPICS

Dixon bridge players will participate in the 1940 World Bridge Olympics next Thursday night in a "sectional meeting" at the local Elks club starting at 8 o'clock. The events, instigated by Ely Culbertson, are held all over the nation and 16 hands prepared by a committee are played out by participants. Scores are sent to national headquarters for ratings. Anyone is welcome to get up a table of four and to play here Thursday night. For details of application, interested bridge players may call Hal Mater at 1033.

JUNIOR LEGION BASEBALL

Pete Phalen, manager of the American Legion Junior baseball club, reports that with continued good weather his outfit will be making plans for the summer season. Pete will have practically the same team this year with the loss of only two players from the 1939 club.

EXPECT AFFIRMATIVE ACTION

Principals of the six schools (Dixon, Boliviere, Mendota, Princeton, DeKalb and Sterling) in the North Central conference are expected to take affirmative action at a meeting next week on the proposal of athletic directors to eliminate lightweight competition and replace it with sophomore-freshman matching in both football and basketball. Sentiment that has been expressed by school officials of the conference members indicates that all but one favor the action.

BANQUET SPEAKER

Milt Vaughn, formerly of Dixon and one of the outstanding basketball and football officials of northern Illinois, will be the guest speaker at the athletic banquet tonight at Harlem high school at Rockford.

PROGRAM IS COMPLETED

Arrangements have been completed for the program at the last meeting of the year which the physical education teachers and coaches of the Rock River Division will hold at White Pines State park next Sunday, April 7. Miss Marion E. Swan, supervisor of physical education at Rochelle, has built a program around the subject: "What I Expect of a Health and Physical Education Program." Representing viewpoints on this theme will be the talks by H. R. Lissack, superintendent of public schools at Rochelle; Miss Esther M. Barton, principal of Lincoln school in Dixon and president of the Rock River division of the Illinois Educational association; and Mrs. A. H. Beebe, a parent from Stillman Valley.

THE TERMITES WIN

The Dixon Termites opened their baseball season Thursday with an 8 to 2 victory over Sam Gehant's nine.

THE DAWN OF A NEW SEASON

It begins to appear as if the golfers' sun is coming up over the horizon and any day now will burst into the full flush of the season. Already, it is reported by Frank Randall, several enthusiasts have been digging divots at Plum Hollow golf course and if the weather permits, the season may get underway about mid-April. Furniture for the new clubhouse has been installed and work is now being done to re-sod the tees and to place the new equipment. Sod has been planted in bare spots around the course and on the location where the old clubhouse stood.

TO CONTINUE VOLLEY BALL

The Dixon business and professional men's volley ball league will continue play for about another month, according to an announcement made today. The league meets every Monday and Thursday night at the high school gym where teams are chosen for each evening of play. For next season it is planned to organize a league of constant membership and to work toward a championship program.

ENCOURAGING REPORTS

Merle Snodgrass, Ogle county baseball player who has been contracted by the St. Louis Cardinals and is now with the Springfield Mo., team of the Western Association, has been the subject of encouragement. He has been suggested by Sid Keener, sports writer of St. Louis, as a possible successor to Johnny Mize at first base for the Cards in another four years and recently was given a first baseman's glove with the compliments of Jack Ryan of the Cards who has watched him with considerable interest.

A GRAND SLAM

The Dixon expert bridge players defeated eight Savanna invaders in a mid-week match here at the Maxine Temple with a total of 4200 plus for the evening and all four Dixon partnerships rated above any of the Savanna pairs. Those playing for Dixon were John Roe, Hal Mater, Paul Charters, William Jenkins, Don Raymond, John Kennedy, Fred Huebner and Clyde Buckingham. Other matches have been proposed with Sterling and Princeton and a return match with Savanna. However, no definite dates have been set.

TRAINING CAMP BRIEFS

McQUINN AT FIRST

San Antonio, Texas. — For the first time in several games, George McQuinn was due to take his place at first base for the St. Louis Browns today against the Toledo Mudhens. He has been bothered by a leg injury.

CRITICAL HOUR NEAR

Lakeland, Fla. — The critical hour approaches for the Detroit Tigers' hopefuls. Owner Walter O. Briggs will arrive at camp tomorrow for a conference with Manager Del Baker on the distribution of rookies to the minors.

PREPARE TO LEAVE

Tampa, Fla. — The Cincinnati Reds prepared to pull stakes today after their game with the Boston Red Sox, but the Tampa chamber of commerce already has obtained the club's promise to return here next spring.

MARCH ON ATLANTA

Atlanta, Ga. — The Cleveland Indians moved in today for Saturday and Sunday exhibitions against Atlanta.

PLENTY OF CONFUSION

Havana, Cuba. — There's still plenty of confusion surrounding the infield of the St. Louis Cardinals, but Manager Ray Blades is ready to give Don Padgett the toga of No. 1 catcher.

HELL HAVE TO BE GOOD

New Orleans. — If Tommy Henrich is going to play rightfield for the New York Yankees this year he'll have to be mighty good. George (Twinkle-Toes) Siskirk, who has had a cold, was back in shape yesterday and, in addition to a polished performance in the field, he scored four runs against Tallahassee, Fla.

REOPEN FAMOUS FEUD

Americus, Ga. — The Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants broke an old habit today by reopening their famous baseball feud in a spring exhibition game.

RED SOX BOSSES HAPPY

Tampa, Fla. — Ready to start their northward trek in the company of the Cincinnati Reds, the Boston Red Sox bosses are overjoyed by the showing of their pitchers.

ANGLES FOR CATCHER

Tucson, Ariz. — Still worried about the Pittsburgh Pirates' catching, President Bill Benavenger is angling for Eddie Fernandez of Portland, in the Pacific Coast league.

BEES VS. SENATORS

Bradenton, Fla. — With what may be the Boston Bees regular lineup in the field, Joe Sullivan was slated to try the full nine-inning route against the Washington Senators.

CONTINUE CITY SERIES

Phoenix, Ariz. — The condition of Eric McNair's sore arm had the Chicago White Sox worried as they continued their "City" series with the Cubs here.

McCARTHY DOES NOT LIKE TRADE RULE IN LEAGUE

If Boston Should Beat Yanks, Joe May Blame The New Law

By GAYLE TALBOT

Tampa, Fla., March 30—(AP)—The new American League rule which forbids the championship club to obtain players from other teams in the league except at the waiver price has Joe McCarthy of the New York Yankees a little worried, an official of another club says.

"If Boston does beat them this year, McCarthy will feel that this rule had something to do with it," he said. "Joe doesn't say so in as many words, but he thinks it's a bad rule and could have a damaging effect on some players. 'Certainly it reduces their incentive to hustle, because they know they are sure of their jobs. Every regular on the club and most of the substitutes absolutely know they won't be traded, and there isn't much chance of the Yankees selling any of them. 'Personally, I don't think any of the Yankees are the type to take advantage of the situation, but you never can tell. If one of them should decide to take things easy when the weather gets hot McCarthy would find himself in an awkward spot."

Joe's Claim to Fame

"One of the things that has made Joe a great manager is his knowledge his players have that Joe won't hesitate an instant to trade them if they don't play to suit him, no matter how good they are. Take the case of Johnny Allen for only one example. But now McCarthy has lost that weapon, and he doesn't like it."

At least one player, First-Base-man Babe Dahlgren, certainly still is with the Yankees because of the new rule, which was put across by President Clark Griffith of Washington at the winter meeting. The Yanks practically had closed a deal for George McQuinn of the St. Louis Browns when the gates were barred.

Tommy Henrich might also have been used in a trade of some sort, perhaps for an experienced pitcher, except for the new rule.

The National League refused such a rule, with the result that the Cincinnati Reds were able to add some strength. They traded Les Scarcella, a first baseman they didn't need, to Boston for Jim Turner, veteran pitcher who might win 15 games for them. And Scarcella has a regular job with the Bees.

LOUIS DUSTS OFF PAYCHEK IN SECOND ROUND LAST EVE

By ORLO ROBERTSON

New York, March 30—(AP)—Mr. Editor—You might as well keep in type that headline, "Joe Louis wins." It looks as if there'll be plenty more opportunities to use it.

The Brown Bomber still is champion of the world with no indication he'll have the crown knocked from his brow by the present crop of heavyweights. He disposed of Johnny the Paychek threat, if it might be dignified by that name, 44 seconds after the start of the second round in Madison Square Garden last night.

That pile driving right that lifted the partly bald, 25-year-old Iowan off his feet and sent him to the canvas left Promoter Michael Strauss Jacobs and 11,620 fans asking themselves — "Who's next?" There are Arturo Godoy, the durable Chilean, "Roly Poly" Tony Galento, Max Baer and Bob Pastor. But all of them have felt the dynamite packed in Louis' fists.

Godoy, who stayed 15 rounds with Louis during the winter, may get a summer shot at the title, or it may be the winner of the May engagement in Jersey City between Galento and Baer. Godoy is due here from a vaudeville tour Monday and with his manager, Al Weill, he'll try to persuade Jacobs to see the things his way.

Johnston Will Be On Hand

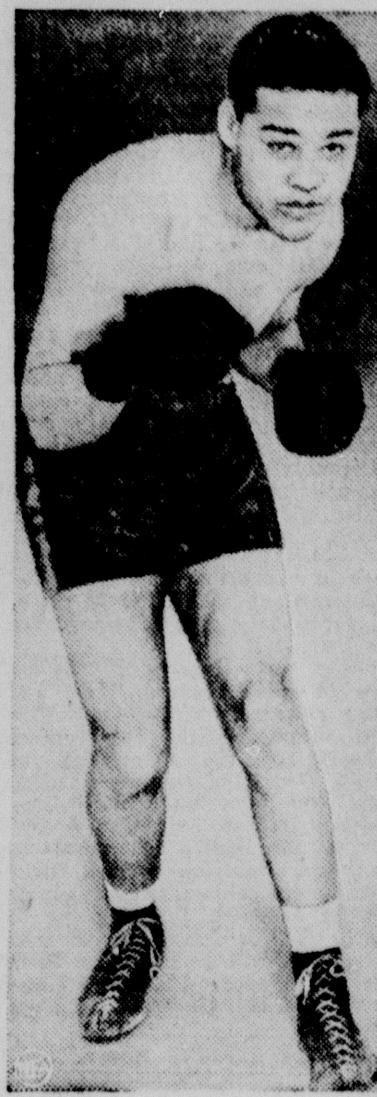

Then you can rest assured Jimmy Johnston will be on hand to do some talking for his boy, Pastor. The disappointed can get some consolation in that Uncle Mike will stage another heavyweight extravaganza in September, with Louis the No. 1 actor.

Probably the less said about last night's fight the better. Louis has had shorter fights, but even he refused to admit his first round knockouts of Max Schmeling, John Henry Lewis and Jack Roper were any easier. The Bomber swung just five real blows. Four of them he used in flooring Paychek three times, each for the count of nine, in the first round. The fifth finished the fight.

Paychek's offensive was practically nil, unless the lefts he kept flicking around at random come under that category. The only blow he struck was a looping right which just grazed the champion's chin after Johnny was down for the second time. Louis couldn't recall that.

Pale at the Start

The Des Moines fiddler was pale at the start. He was white as a sheet after feeling the power of the right that sent him down for his first count of nine. He told Referee Arthur Donovan he was okay after going down the second and third times, but later, in the dressing rooms, he said he didn't know a thing after Joe connected with his first right—much less the instructions that Benny Leonard gave him between rounds.

"No, I wasn't afraid," said Johnny, "but I was a little nervous. That final blow! Let me tell you, that was about the damndest feeling I ever had."

As for Champion Joe, he was so untroubled that he even considered not taking a shower. His chief thought was to catch the 11:45 train for the west. He did, with time to spare.

The gross gate of $62,481 was the smallest return attracted by Louis since he lifted the crown from James Braddock three years ago. Out of that the Finnish relief fund received ten per cent and in addition, will get 7½ per cent of Louis' share and 2½ per cent of Paychek's purse.

IRISH BEGIN DRILL

South Bend, Ind., March 30 (AP)—The 1940 Notre Dame university football squad holds its initial spring drill today—mostly for the benefit of newspaper and motion picture cameramen.

Coach Elmer Layden said 10 of his 1939 players would be lost by graduation and that stress would be placed on fundamentals and development of reserves.

The spring training will close April 27 with the annual senior-1940 varsity game.

Tony Zale and Davey Day Win in Co-Feature

Chicago, March 30—(AP)—Ben Brown, the handsome Irish middleweight of Atlanta, Ga., knows how it feels to be knocked out.

The Dixie fighter experienced this unpleasant sensation last night for the first time in 70 fights when Tony Zale, Gary, Ind., steel-worker left-hooked him into unconsciousness in the third round of a scheduled 10-rounder in Chicago stadium.

Zale's impressive victory strengthened his claim to recognition in the middleweight class, coming as it did close on the heels of his decision over Al Hostak of Seattle, recognized as the champion by the National Boxing association. Zale is rated the number three challenger and Brown number four.

Zale's handlers now are angling to match him with Hostak in a title go or with Ceferino Garcia, middleweight champion in New York and California.

In a co-feature 10-round bout Davey Day of Chicago easily outpointed Norment Quarles of Hendersonville, N. C. Day has signed to meet Sammy Angott of Louisville, Ky., May 3 in Louisville. The N. B. A. has announced the winner will be recognized as the lightweight champion. The N. B. A. withdrew championship recognition from Lou Ambers of Herkimer, N. Y., earlier this week because he had not defended the title within six months.

Down The ALLEYS

Hanson's Stars, battling for second place honors just behind the Coca Cola team in the Major League, last night won three games from this Dixie quintet at the Dixon Recreation. Smith rolled an impressive 626 with games of 181, 233, 212 to pace the winners. Thompson counted 454 for the losers.

The Blatz team won two games from Plum Hollow with Krug rolling 555 for the winners and Long counting 175 for the golfers.

Dixon Paint won two games from the Chauffeurs. Daschbach's 550 was high for the brushmen while Lessner counted 511 for the drivers.

The league-leading Crystal Barbers counted a two game victory over the Coca Cola quintet. Riddbauer's 499 was high for the winners and Poole rolled 495 for the losers.

Except for the swell series rolled by Smith for Hanson's Stars, Klein of the same team counted with 204 in his first game for the only other score over 200.

Investigate Death of Girl Aboard Training
Ship Dubuque of U. S. N.

Detroit, March 30.—(AP)—Naval reserve officials joined police today in an investigation of the death of Miss Charlotte Cranson, 18, who was taken to the office of a physician by two young men and another girl after an unauthorized party aboard the U. S. S. Dubuque, a training ship.

The physician pronounced the girl dead. Her companions said they found her unconscious on the deck of the gunboat, which is anchored in the Detroit river at the naval reserve armory and is unmanned except during the summer months.

INDIAN JUMPING SNAKE
The Indian jumping snake is capable of leaping from one tree to another up to a distance of 10 feet. This snake has a green body, covered with bars and spots of brilliant red, yellow and orange.

There are more than 20,000 silver fox farms in Norway, with this nation producing the bulk of such pelts in Europe.

"The abundance of peace and truth"

PEACE is not a surface condition. Whether considered in relation to the individual or to society, peace is deep-founded, fundamental. It is not negative; it does not result from indifference. In fact, peace can be found only in clear thinking, humbly maintaining an ideal even in the face of odds; it is not found in merely drifting with the tide of contemporaneous beliefs. The characteristic of peace is co-operation. Thus is national as well as individual character developed.

True character is expressive of spiritual virtues. It furnishes evidence that real existence is not, as unenlightened materialism pretends, the sport of forces divided between good and evil. Spiritual truth proclaims that the achieving, conquering, sustaining laws of being are entirely spiritual, that man is spiritual, and that real existence is governed by divine law.

Christian scientific thinking proves man's divinely bestowed dominion. This is the opposite of personal domination, for domination comes from that faith in matter which breeds fear and selfishness. Domination, on the other hand, is found in knowing God's infinitude. . . . It would not be convincing to pray that God's will be "done in earth, as it is in heaven," unless it were understood that God's bountiful provision for His ideal man, in His likeness, is humanly available in terms of health, goodness, joy, and opportunity. Jesus' great healing work, done in accord with the divine will, clearly proved that the Christly understanding of spiritual being can dispel the effects of disturbing fears and theories.

Amid world-wide turmoil, or when pressed by difficulties of a more personal nature, we often find it hard to behold God's supremacy and His ideal man in Him. Then, however, we can learn that the five physical senses see nothing accurately, and prove that the safe way involves a denial of frightening sense impressions and a sure use of hope and faith, based upon an understanding of God as Love, divine Principle. Jesus rebuked some because they could "discern the face of the sky," but could not "discern the signs of the times" (Matthew 16:3). When customary reliance fails, the "signs of the times" indicate our need to know God aright and to prove our relationship to Him more humbly and consistently. . . .

The shortcomings of ourselves or others should not discourage us, but rather should rouse us to rely upon the truth stated by Mary Baker Eddy where she writes (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, p. 6), "Divine Love corrects and governs man." If we doubt this and are troubled by the apparent activity of evil, we need to gain a more vivid understanding of divine Love, for the divine is ever unconfined, universal, all-embracing. Knowing this, we protect ourselves from the temptation to become dictatorial or to assume a false responsibility.

It is spiritual peace that we all need, and as we find this by realizing that man is God's inseparable image and likeness, we learn to dwell harmoniously with others. Mrs. Eddy writes (The First Church of Christ, Scientist, and Miscellany, p. 27), "The characters and lives of men determine the peace, prosperity, and life of nations." Character based on spiritual strength includes humility and generosity, readiness to praise and reluctance to condemn, patience and honest thanksgiving. His own business, and finds in expressing spiritual ideas a satisfying activity, rich in promise for society and in reward for the individual.

Belief in materiality incites to greed, hatred, fear, and other promoters of discord. This false impulse is the seeming opposite of the inspiration of Spirit, God, who endows creation with the love and intelligence which perpetuate harmony. Speaking of the houses of Israel, in captivity, Jeremiah voiced God's promise as universally available (33:6): "Behold, I will bring it health and cure, and I will cure them, and will reveal unto them the abundance of peace and truth."—The Christian Science Monitor.

RECIPES

Pineapple Upside-Down Cake
Melt three tablespoons of butter and one cup of brown sugar in a pan. When nicely browned, add seven slices of pineapple. For the batter, combine:

One and one-half cups sugar, one-half cup water, one and one-half cups flour, one-eighth teaspoon salt, three eggs, beaten separately, one and one-half teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon vanilla. Beat the yolks, then add salt, vanilla and sugar. Alternately add the water and flour. Next add beaten egg whites. Pour batter over the pineapple and bake at 375 degrees for 20 minutes. Turn out on serving dish and garnish with whipped cream. This yields eight or nine servings.

FOOD TIPS
Brown sugar and whole cloves are the indispensable allies of the baker of ham. During the last half hour the skin may be peeled off the top of the ham, the fat scored, the sugar sprinkled on and the cloves stuck in. Honey is an excellent substitute for sugar and crushed pineapple is a flavorly success, either as "frosting," or as a side dish at dinner.

Scientists are beginning to link up winter toothaches with too little sunshine vitamin D. Statistics prove that school children in sections where sunshine is limited several months have more tooth cavities in winter and spring than youngsters in sunshine states. Authorities agree that a relatively high vitamin D content in the diet can do much to offset this loss of sunshine.

Wine vinegars are prized highly in many countries for their delicate bouquets and subtle flavors in the salad's dressing. A wine flavored with roses was among surprises in the fine foods offered by the French at the New York World's Fair. Plus the rose wine vinegar were sage, garlic, tomato, pimiento, truffle, raspberry, horseradish, lemon, ravigotte, tarragon, celery, shallot and a champagne wine vinegar.

BIRDS' SONG-BOXES
The bird's song-box is called the syrinx. The instrument is quite complicated, but the principle is simple enough. As the bird breathes out air, it sets certain membranes vibrating, and these are tightened or loosened according to the pitch desired.

"CROOKED" EATING PLACE
The inn at Himley, England, has the most "crooked" eating place in the world. So completely of the perpendicular is it that it is a real achievement for diners to maintain their equilibrium while walking inside the building.

Says Demo Chiefs Threatened Those Back on Payments

Harrisburg, Pa., March 30.—(AP)—A state employee testified today he and others were instructed by Democratic leaders to "pay up your assessments" or other persons would be given their jobs on Capitol Hill.

J. C. Copenhaver, employed by the state for 17 years, told the jury trying Democratic State Chairman David L. Lawrence and seven other party figures:

"They said they needed money and each employee was supposed to pay back assessments (on the basis of three or five per cent of their salaries). They were getting tired of coaxing us and we were supposed to pay before the election; they had other people for the jobs unless they paid up."

This conversation, Copenhaver said, took place at the Dauphin county Democratic committee headquarters here in August, 1937. Present were state employees, including himself. He said the ultimatum was voiced by Frank R. Hean, then secretary to the party board, who is among the eight defendants charged with conspiracy to assess the public payroll for political purposes.

Copenhaver also said he had applied to the local leaders for a raise and had been told by another defendant, William B. Freehand, that he had "a better chance" to get it, if he paid back assessments.

Explosion, Fire—

Schwartz & Ryan, the owners of the well, Butrick had been hired earlier today and it was his first day's work on the well.

Mrs. Stow said gas and oil started "fusing from the well just before the explosion and she knew enough about wells to realize there was danger of an explosion. As a result she warned two families who occupied the same house to get out and they escaped before the blast and fire destroyed the house.

Firemen extinguished the well fire with chemicals. The gas was believed to have been ignited by a fire near the well.

session of direct communications by the United States ambassador to Paris, William C. Bullitt, and others.

Urged Close Inspection
Foreign office officials invited foreign correspondents to inspect closely the original documents of which copies were released yesterday.

Examination showed that the documents offered as reports by Count Jerzy Potocki, Polish ambassador to Washington who is alleged to have reported to Warsaw conversations with Bullitt, invariably were written on a rather heavy paper watermarked with the monogram MFP, under which were the words "Papier a Lettres," under which in turn was the word "Mirkov."

The reports attributed to Count Edward Raczniski, Polish ambassador to London, which told of alleged conversations with the American ambassador in London, Joseph P. Kennedy, were on a paper watermarked "Waterton Bond."

Those attributed to Julius Lukaszewicz, ambassador to Paris, also said to have reported on conversations with Bullitt, were on a paper of English or American origin, watermarked "extra strong."

The German press, in displaying the Polish documents, accused United States diplomats of playing "an ominous role" in European affairs.

reply to all questions concerning the data taken from his office. He said its seizure was "unlawful and unconstitutional."

Although Dies pressed him repeatedly, he would not answer directly a question as to whether he would support the United States in a war against Russia.

STANDS BY GUNS
Baltimore, March 30.—(AP)—Despite the threat of contempt proceedings, Dr. Albert E. Blumberg, Communist party secretary for Maryland, and the District of Columbia, asserted today he still would not answer certain questions for the Dies committee.

Blumberg told interviewers that as long as those questions dealt with the identity of party members in this area or the seizure of records from headquarters here, he would remain as mum as he did on the witness stand yesterday in Washington.

"To answer these questions would assist the committee in the establishment of a general blacklist of Communists, which would make it difficult and uncomfortable for those named to hold jobs, and only because of their beliefs," he said.

Dewey Petitions on Fire in New Jersey

Trenton, N. J., March 30.—(AP)—Nominating petitions placing New York District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey, candidate for the Republican nomination for president, in New Jersey's preferential primary May 21 were filed today with the secretary of state. The filing deadline is midnight Monday. No other candidates have indicated they would file.

Should Dewey, who has the support of leaders of the two Republican factions in the state, have a clear field, it was possible he might capture New Jersey's 32 votes in the national convention.

The Republican state committee has announced support for an unpledged slate of four delegates-at-large to the national convention, but said the delegates, while uninstructed, would follow the voters' wishes as expressed in the preferential primary.

National Committeeman Daniel E. Pomeroy said the 28 district delegates undoubtedly would follow the lead of the at-large delegates in supporting the high man.

INS Correspondent Freed by Japanese

Tokyo, March 30.—(AP)—James R. Young of Springfield, Ill., International News Service correspondent convicted on a charge of "spreading false rumors," became automatically free today with expiration of the period in which the prosecution might have filed an appeal.

Convicted March 22, Young was given a six-months suspended sentence, which now becomes effective. He had been free on bail but subject to a new trial, Japanese law giving the prosecution as well as the defense the right of appeal.

The court found extenuating circumstances in Young's case because he was "an American and a correspondent whose duty" required him "to transmit news."

Wang Names Self Head of Central China Government

Nanking, March 30.—(AP)—Backed by the bayonets of his Japanese sponsors, Wang Ching-Wei formally proclaimed himself head of a new "central government of China" today as the banners of Nanking flapped limply under leaden skies.

Wang once was nationalist China's premier, and with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek was the political heir of the republic's founder, Dr. Sun Yat-Sen. Now his former associates call Wang a "despicable traitor."

Mounting a platform in front of Dr. Sun's picture, he read Dr. Sun's will, then read a proclamation ordering immediate cessation of the 33 months of hostilities with Japan and directing Chinese troops to "await further orders."

Blatantly ignoring the practical certainty of disobedience, Wang announced that his chief aims were

Avery-Buchanan

Miss Lois Avery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Avery, and Clement Buchanan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Buchanan, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents on Tuesday, March 26, at 7:30 p. m. The Rev. James H. Hagerty of the Methodist church performed the ceremony. The bride was attired in a powder blue gown and carried gardenias. The groom wore the conventional blue suit. The bride's going away dress was a natural color suit with tan accessories.

The room was beautifully decorated for the double ring ceremony, with tulips, jonquils and daffodils. The guests were served with light refreshments.

Those present for the event were Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Avery, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Buchanan, Mrs. Clement Johnson, Dr. Wilbur Avery, Mrs. Frank Hallock, Mr. and Mrs. Milford Vance, Miss Malinda Kaiser, and Bob and Gale Avery.

The newlyweds will take a honeymoon trip through the south, and on their return will take up farming south of Compton. Both are well known in this community. Lois having graduated from Paw Paw high school in 1936, and Clement in 1935.

Their many friends wish them happiness and success in married life.

Government of China Honored Dr. Jos. Beech

Dr. Joseph Beech of this city, chancellor of the West China Union university in Chengtu, Szechuan, left Chicago in February last year on a special mission, that of taking equipment for the large clinical hospital now being erected on the university campus. He was delayed several months on the way, having gone from Hong-kong via French Indo China to Kunning, Yunnan by rail. He at last secured trucks to take the freight to Chungking, the capital of China.

While there he was taken violently ill so that his life was despaired of for some days. As soon as possible he and his physician flew to Chengtu and in due time the freight arrived by boat and truck. He regained his health and is now enroute to the home-land due to arrive in San Francisco April 25th.

Quotations from a letter dated March 8 at Chengtu, China: "Before leaving Chengtu, the government is conferring special honors upon me. I am to be awarded the Fourth Class Medalion of Flowery Jade, that has been given once to another American, Prof. John Dewey. With congratulations (Signed) Changhangnan, minister of communications."

From the Central News Agency, Feb. 26, 1940. Special Order of the National Government. From a petition of the Executive Yuan, based on another one from the Ministry of Education, it is requested that the merit of Joseph Beech, chancellor of the West China Union university, citizen of the United States of America, shall be acknowledged by a special order of the President of the Republic, in addition to the diploma of First Class offered to him by the Minister of Education. Dr. Beech has secured a great sum of money about (Chinese dollars) five million, and founded the West China Union University which has rendered splendid service to this country. According to Article 5 of the law concerning the encouragement of contributions to education, Dr. Beech really deserves the honor. "The service of Dr. Beech in founding the university in this

Indiana Union Agent's Trial Set for April 2

Plymouth, Ind., March 30 — (AP)—John A. Marks, 36-year-old Michigan City union business agent, will go on trial April 2 on charges of conspiracy to commit a felony in the sabotage of the Indiana & Michigan Electric Company towers in northern Indiana last fall.

Judge John W. Kitch of Marshall Circuit court yesterday set the trial date after lawyers in the case were unable to agree on a new time. The trial originally was to have opened Monday, but defense lawyers sought a postponement.

Marks, free under bonds aggregating $105,000, also is charged with conspiracy in LePorte and Noble Circuit courts and with violation of the "anti-racketeering" law in northern Indiana district federal court.

Girl Imprisoned in Box Car Thirty Hours

Waukegan, Ill., March 30 — (AP)—Betty Jane Bass, 15, was rescued late yesterday from a Milwaukee road box car in which she is believed to have been locked for perhaps 20 hours.

A brakeman and fuel inspector who heard her cries while the car stopped at Roundout in Lake county released her. Dazed, weak and apparently suffering from shock, she was taken to the Lake County General hospital in Waukegan.

A special reception is to be held by the Provisional Government on March 22, when I am informed, these honors will be presented. (Signed) Joseph Beech.

Farley Says Postal Receipts Will Mount

Indianapolis, March 30—(AP)—Postmaster James A. Farley, speaking today before the Indiana chapter of the National Association of Postmasters, predicted 1940 revenues of the post office department "will set another all-time high, amounting to at least $750,000,000".

Income of the post office department, Farley pointed out was accepted as "an accurate barometer of the nation's business".

Describing his department as "the outstanding example of a business organization in government", the postmaster general asserted "there is no reason for the public to be concerned about the operation of the postal service."

"It is and should always be carried on with such certainty and efficiency that public concern and discussion are unnecessary", he said.

THE THINKERS

New Grand Jury Will Continue Gambling Probe

Chicago, March 30—(AP)—The Federal grand jury investigating the incomes of alleged big time gamblers Friday concluded its work by returning an indictment, charging blanket conspiracy, against W. R. Johnson and 12 others, including William R. Skidmore and a 27-year-old woman.

The indictment charged that the payment of $1,887,664.31 in income taxes had been evaded by Johnson from 1936 to 1939 inclusive.

The indictment was returned before Judge Charles E. Woodward, who then dismissed the jury, which has served three terms, the limit under the law.

Nine of the persons named in the blanket conspiracy indictment had been indicted previously by the same grand jury. The blanket bill accused Johnson of actual evasion of $1,887,664.31 in taxes, and charged the others with aiding and abetting him of perjury.

Four New Names

The names of four new figures were brought into the ramified case: Ed Wait, described as Johnson's right-hand man and manager of the Villa Moderne and the Bon Air Casino, Lake county night spots; Orrie Alexander, a brother-in-law of Skidmore and chief bookkeeper at Skidmore's Chicago junkyard; Reginald E. Mackay, of suburban Elmhurst, manager of a casino; and Bernice Downey, a partner in the operation of a Chicago currency exchange.

Bond was fixed for each at $10,000.

Those named in earlier indictments besides Johnson and Skidmore were:

William Goldstein, attorney for Johnson and Skidmore; Andrew J. Creighton, Jack Sommers, James A. Hartigan, James M. Flanagan, William P. Kelly, all managers of clubs; Stuart Brown, manager of a currency exchange.

Three Are Fugitives

E. Riley Campbell, special assistant to the district attorney, said that Bernice Downey, Mackay and Wait were fugitives.

Since the grand jury started its inquiry three months ago 17 persons have been indicted. The dismissal of this body did not conclude the government's investigations; another jury will be empowered soon to continue the drive against gambling.

The blanket indictment embraced five counts, one of which was the second indictment of Johnson on charges of evading the payment of $497,744.33 in income taxes for 1939. The prior bill alleged evasion only up to the year 1938 inclusive.

CAMPING TRIP

Eighteen Boy Scouts, members of Troop 72 of the Methodist church, and their Scoutmaster, Nelson Kirkey, returned yesterday afternoon from an overnight camping trip at the Robert Ayres cottage at White Rock along Rock river. Included in the camping party were: Peter Karydes, Bob Whiting, Raymond Hood, Wilzie McCoy, Ralph Goodman, Bob Meeks, Bob Freed, Louis Alwood, Alvin Adams, George Byerhoff, Wayne Frazer, Russell Byers, Jack Stevens, Dick Brown, Bud Frey, Bob Wadsworth, Harvey Ware and Jack Warner.

On Monday night, April 8, the troop will be hosts to the parents at a meeting at the church at 7:30. Awards for advancement will be presented.

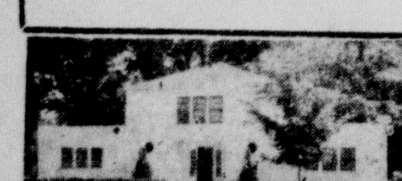

Rumanian Siege Gun Explodes; Heavy Toll

Bucharest, March 30—(AP)—Explosion of one of Rumania's largest siege guns, with a heavy toll of life, during army maneuvers, was reported today.

Authorities suppressed the report in Rumanian newspapers but a trainload of wounded soldiers was rushed to Bucharest from Dadidov, where the explosion occurred.

POLITICS

AP Reports Gossip Among Politicians in Washington

BY W. B. RAGSDALE

Washington, Mar. 30—Senator Taft of Ohio is making a studied effort not to capitalize on the name and influence of his father, the late Chief Justice and one-time president, in his own campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

Yet, in his hearty, jovial way, William Howard Taft sowed 30 years ago, a lot of seed that promise to grow up into convention delegates for his boy, Robert.

Sons of Taft-appointed postmasters number thousands in the country. There are countless descendants of Taft-appointed customs collectors, Taft-appointed judges, Taft-appointed marshals, district attorneys and on down the line. Not that President Taft did any more appointing than any other president of his era; he did much less than two-termers like Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson.

But a feeling of appreciation for past favors at the hands of the family has passed on down to the descendants of those appointees. It has become a natural windfall for Senator Taft. Though he shows no disposition to try to claim it, a certain portion of this gratitude is bound to be thrust upon him.

The sons and daughters of these appointees of William Howard Taft have grown up into men and women of influence in their communities. That their fathers were influential was evidenced by the fact that the party owed them enough of a debt to pay off with a job.

This does not mean that they control the state organizations. But it does give Senator Taft a grasp upon the affections of a substantial element of influential Republicans.

Minister of Shipping of Great Britain Dies

London, March 30—(AP)—Sir John Gilmour, minister of shipping, died today.

Sir John, 63, had been prominent in the Unionist (Conservative) party for 20 years and had held various cabinet posts since 1926.

Death came unexpectedly of a heart attack at his home in London.

His death was the first of a British cabinet minister since the war began.

Sir John had been mentioned as among the cabinet members who might be replaced in a possible ministerial shake up.

In charge of the empire's far-flung shipping interests since Oct. 13, 1939, he came under fire from shipowners as a result of his ruling, effective February 1, requisitioning all shipping.

Big Republican Vote April 9th Urged by Green

Chicago, Ill., March 30—"In the fury of the last minute campaign drive, we must not overlook the fact that our common enemy in Illinois is the Kelly-Nash machine and its twin, the State House gang at Springfield", Dwight H. Green, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, reminded large audiences at a series of ward meetings here last night.

"We must not overlook the fact that this is a campaign to clean out the un-American ideals and methods of the New Deal as they have spread through our local, state and national governments. That is an aim higher than the ambitions or aspirations of any one candidate for office no matter how high the public position which he seeks. It is more important than who shall govern our state or represent our people at Washington or Springfield."

Must Make Wise Choice

"The time has come when the Republican party must choose able and qualified men of the highest character for each and every office, from minor party leaders to major public positions of trust. The Republican primary must not become a fight, but must remain a testing ground whereby the majority of the people place their stamp of approval upon a constructive program and upon the candidate who enunciates that program."

"It is up to the people of the Republican party to get out the largest vote a Republican primary has ever seen so that we may tell the nation that Illinois will go Republican this fall. Our victory will come in November, but we must prepare the way with a rousing turnout on April 9th", Green charged his listeners.

CONVERGE ON CHICAGO

Chicago, March 30—(AP)—The last week-end but one in the Illinois primary election campaign found all candidates for major offices pleading for support today in the Chicago metropolitan area.

Harry B. Hershey, the Democrat organization's candidate for governor, moved in today after closing his downstate campaign last night at Jacksonville.

He predicted the organization ticket would win both in Chicago and downstate "by crushing majorities in vindication of the clean campaign we have conducted and in repudiation of spurious issues and questionable tactics of the opposition".

Charles E. Bliss, Hershey's campaign manager, predicted a 350,000 vote majority for his candidate in Cook county and 150,000 downstate. It was announced that Senator Scott W. Lucas would be among speakers appearing at 200 meetings in behalf of the Hershey slate.

Hershey's opponent John Stelle, returned to the hustings last night after a two-day rest necessitated by a cold. He accused Hershey of talking orders from the party "bosses", including Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago and National Committeeman P. A. Nash.

Stelle Quotes Horner Pointing out that Hershey has the support of the Chicago Democratic organization, Stelle read excerpts from Governor Horner's political speeches of 1938 which were directed against the Chicago Democratic leaders.

He quoted the governor as saying in a Springfield campaign address in 1938: "We are fighting for the ideals of honest, decent government. We are going to smash that political octopus which is now seeking to fasten its tentacles on the democracy of Illinois—the Kelly-Nash machine."

Benjamin Adamowski, candidate for the senate on the "rebel" Democratic ticket, charged that Senator James M. Slattery gave Horner misinformation which induced the latter to veto the old age pension bill passed by the 1939 legislature.

Slattery replied in a campaign address that his opponent was trying to "re-hash a false story designed to mislead and delude the aged people of Illinois". He denied he had given the governor any information which might

Republicans Avoid Personalities

In contrast to the intra-party disputes among the Democratic candidates, the Republican aspirants last night confined their speeches to criticism of the new deal and Illinois Democrats.

Dwight H. Green, candidate for governor, said the Republican primary "must not become a fight", but rather the prelude to a sweeping party victory in November.

"We must not overlook the fact that this is a campaign to clean out the un-American ideals and methods of the new deal as they have spread through our local, state and national governments", Green said.

Richard J. Lyons, another Republican gubernatorial aspirant, declared the new deal sought to "regiment" the medical profession, the farmer, and the worker, and to promote the thesis that the nation has reached the limit of industrial expansion.

"Although our American system of free enterprise may not have always distributed justly the relative abundance it has created", Lyons said, "the politically-dominated new deal program has utterly failed to create any abundance to distribute".

C. Wayland Brooks, Republican senatorial aspirant, asserted that Americans today are "discouraged, frightened, and tired".

"America must look to the Republican party for wise and unselfish leadership back to sanity", Brooks declared.

"Every honest, constructive force must be relieved of fear—fear of meddling in the European war, fear of more taxes, fear of persecution x x x", he added.

INDIANA AND KANSAS CAGE TEAMS TO COLLIDE TONIGHT FOR THE NATIONAL CROWN

Kansas City, March 30—(AP)—Basketball teams from Indiana and Kansas universities collide tonight for the National Collegiate title.

Judged the best in the nation by the process of elimination, they will meet at 8 P. M. (Central Standard Time).

Around 10,000 spectators are expected.

Coach Branch McCracken, youthful Indiana mentor, will start either Jay McCreary or Herman Schaefer at one forward post.

Capt. Marv Huffman and Bob Dro will be at the guards; Bill Menke at center, and Paul (Curly) Armstrong at the other forward.

Kansas, co-champion of the Big Six with Missouri and Oklahoma, has three juniors and two seniors to carry its colors. The Jayhawks squeaked through to the Western N. C. A. A. honors a week ago with a 43 to 42 verdict over Southern California.

Sitting on their bench will be Dr. F. C. Allen, who has seen 23 of his 30 college machines win conference honors. He argues that this quintet does not compare with some of his great teams of the past but figures on the coolness of his quarter-backing son, Robert; the marksmanship of Howard Engleman, Ralph Miller and Don Ebling, and the rebounding of Dick Harp to offset Indiana's admitted advantage in speed.

Children's Plea for "Goodest" Daddy Gets Him His Liberty Today

New York, March 30—(AP)—Sam Hanft is free today because a little girl walked into Federal court and said tearfully that their daddy is the "goodest" in the world.

Hanft, 44, was sentenced yesterday, with 30 others, to a year and a day for bootlegging. Court had recessed. In an empty aisle stood Erwin Hanft, 10, holding his sister, Rhoda, 5, by the hand.

They wanted to know what had happened to daddy.

Only Three U. S. Senators Not In Fight to Return

Washington, March 30—(AP)—The developing political campaign is demonstrating that members are reluctant to give up their cards in the "most exclusive club in the world"—the United States Senate.

The 35 Senators whose terms expire next winter include some long-time members and some comparative youngsters, but, with the exception of three, all have indicated they would run again.

Senators Donahey (D-Ohio) and Hale (R-Me.) have announced they would retire, while Senator Schwellenbach (D-Wash.) has been non-committal.

The first tests for sitting Senators will come in the Illinois and Nebraska primaries April 9. In Illinois, Senator Slattery is opposed for Democratic re-nomination by Benjamin Adamowski, a state legislator.

In Nebraska, Senator Burke is opposed for Democratic re-nomination by Governor Roy L. Cochran.

Pennsylvania Democrats are split in Senator Guffey's re-nomination race against Walter A. Jones, chairman of the State Turnpike Commission.

In Maryland

In Maryland Senator Radcliffe already is engaged in a stumping contest with Howard Bruce, Democratic national committeeman seeking the senatorial nomination.

In West Virginia, Senators Holt and Neely have patched up their long-standing quarrel, and Neely is expected to support Holt for re-nomination against Guy H. Kump, a former governor.

Senator Truman (D-Mo.) already has opposition for re-nomination from Governor Lloyd C. Stark. Maurice M. Milligan, who prosecuted the Pendergast Democratic organization in Kansas City, has resigned as Federal attorney, apparently to seek Truman's seat.

Senator Austin (R-Vt.), who is up for re-election, contended today that the Republicans had a chance to win nine places now held by these Democratic Senators:

Donahey, Guffey, Holt, Maloney of Connecticut, Mead of New York, Minton of Indiana, O'Mahoney of Wyoming, Schwellenbach and Truman.

OHIO STATE'S GREAT DIVER SEEKS 6th STRAIGHT TITLE

New Haven, Conn., March 30—(AP)—Al Patnik, Ohio State's great diver, went after his sixth straight National Collegiate title today, and his effort was creating as much attention as the grueling battle for the team championship featuring Michigan and Yale.

The two-day N. C. A. A. meet burst into its final five-event set-up with Michigan and Yale deadlocked at 23 points each. Ohio State trailed by three points, but the experts insisted it was a two-fisted fight with Michigan holding a slight edge to defend its title and win the championship for the eleventh time in the past 13 springs.

Patnik defended his low board title yesterday. He's out to retain his high-board crown today.

"My daddy is the goodest I ever saw", said Erwin. "They lie. He ain't no bootlegger. He's a wonderful daddy. He makes us good meals. He's swell, really swell."

"My mom's dead", he added as he and Rhoda began to cry.

Judge Inch recalled Hanft to the court and suspended sentence.

John T. Rainier, 79, Pioneer Manufacturer of Automobiles, Dead

Hewlett Harbor, N. Y., March 30—(AP)—John T. Rainier, 79, one of the first automobile manufacturers, died yesterday at his home after a long illness.

Rainier's cars were famous racers early in the century, and the Rainier Motor Car Company was one of the concerns combined to form the General Motors Corporation in 1908. A year later Louis Fishrow drove a Rainier stock model to win the first 200-mile Atlanta trophy race. He averaged 70 miles an hour on a two-mile track.
